

Please stop Sinclair from airing any anti-Kerry documentaries days before the election is a clear example of the dangerous media consolidation.

It's more important that we see real people from our own communities and more substantive news about issues that matter. Sinclair uses the public airwaves free of charge, and is obligated by law to serve the public interest. When large companies control the airwaves, we get more of what's good for the bottom line and less of what we need for our democracy.

We must strengthen media ownership rules, not weaken them. Sinclair's actions show why the license renewal process needs to involve more than a returned postcard. Thank you.
